“Living Wild” North American Wildlife A Presentation by Tom J. Ulrich at the Montana House

The Montana House is pleased to co-host another in the series of “Look, Listen & Learn” programs at the Montana House in Apgar Village inside Glacier National Park. The featured photographer/author from West Glacier, Montana is Tom J. Ulrich with his presentation at 7:00 p.m. Saturday evening September 6, 2014.

For nearly four decades Tom has crossed the globe capturing wildlife photographically. Thousands of his photos have been published in periodicals familiar to all, from National Geographic, Smithsonian and Ranger Rick to Woman’s World. His presentations have entertained and educated thousands of people at distinguished universities such as John Hopkins, Oklahoma State, University of Illinois, Texas Tech, University of Hawaii and numerous others.

For many years Tom has been leading tours to remote parts of the world, such as Patagonia, Tierra del Fuego, Galapagos Islands, Costa Rica, and East Africa. Additionally, Tom also conducts photography seminars and workshops around the country and lectures at numerous institutions.

Come and enjoy an hour viewing hundreds of images and the story behind them.

Hans and Toni Jungster established The Montana House Regional Craft Shop in 1960 in Apgar Village, just inside Glacier National Park. Their daughter, Monica and staff continue to carry on their mission: to celebrate and promote the creativity of Montana and Native American artists and craftsmen for our mutual benefit. The Montana House has been a long time avid supporter of Glacier National Park.

A reception and book signing will follow Ulrich’s presentation. This event is free and open to the public, but space is limited, so reservations are required. To reserve your seats, please phone 406.888.5393 or e-mail: 1960mthouse@qwestoffice.net
